THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO. | ATLANTA, GEORGIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1869. | VOLUME II--NUMBER 117

EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, NOVEMBER 2.

Georgia News.

Mr. W. B. Wamble gives the following notice to the Ordinaries of Georgia: "You are hereby notified not to issue any license for matrimony to or for D. B. Wamble, or, in full, Daniel Barton Wamble, until after the 1st of March, 1873, he being a minor." [Early County News.

We had the pleasure of greeting in our sanctum yesterday, C. J. Woodbury, the talented correspondent, under the nom de plume of "Earnest," to THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION. No one has done more for the educational interests of Georgia, than Mr. W., and he deserves the everlasting gratitude of every true Georgian.—West Point Shield.

During the last week twenty-six sailing vessels came into port, besides seven steamships, nine steamers, and several small coasters. The Brunswick and Macon railroad will be completed and open to travel on the 20th instant, and trains will run through to Macon from Savannah, via the Gulf railroad, on that day.—Savannah News.

Prof. W. R. Jones and lady, late of Atlanta, will open a first class English and classical boarding school for males and females, on Monday the 1st, Nov. The Gainesville Academy, under the able supervision of L. M. Lyle, is still in successful operation, and has for nearly two years maintained a high character.

The Engineer corps of the Air-Line Road, progress rapidly, and as yet, without any obstacles, and expect to reach Gainesville by the middle of November. The location will be made on the best, nearest, and most judiciously selected route, not only for the interests of the section, but for the great national good.—Air-Line Eagle.

Under the new regime in agriculture, the demand for improved implements is constantly increasing. Northern establishments are making handsome profits out of the Southern demand for agricultural implements, which can and ought to be kept in the South to assist in building up her own manufactures and developing her mineral resources. We have everything at our command, in the greatest abundance, to manufacture such implements as are demanded for the cultivation of our soil, and skilled mechanics to engage in their construction. A splendid opening is here presented for a lucrative business, and which ought at once to be put into operation. We have been more than surprised to see that this subject has not heretofore attracted the attention of some of our machinists and Iron founders. Atlanta would be an excellent point for an Agricultural Implement Manufactory, from which Georgia, Alabama and Florida could be supplied. Atlanta possesses every facility requisite for a successful prosecutipn of a business of this kind. We hope soon to see a Manufactory of all kinds of improved Agricultural Implements, established at some point in Georgia.—Madison Examiner.

OUR EUROPEAN LETTER.

The Metropolis of England.

LONDON, October 9, 1869.

Mr. Editor: A letter from England, however deficient it may be in intrinsic merit, is generally interesting to Americans. Especially is this so in the case of Southern people, few of whom, since the war, have had an opportunity of visiting the old country. Strong in this opinion, I have ventured to spend my leisure moments in writing you a description of this great metropolis, and its many objects of interest and instruction.

This, unfortunately, is not the "season" in London. Parliament has adjourned. The Queen is away at her summer palace in Scotland. All the aristocracy are at their country seats, playing wild havoc with the innocent grouse and hare. The hare, you know, is rather held in disrespect by us, but over here it is considered a rare delicacy.

THE BYRON SCANDAL.

The Byron scandal has not yet ceased to agitate the public mind. Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe has the satisfaction of knowing (and this is remarkably consoling to a Yankee,) that she has created the greatest sensation among the literati of the 19th century, even if she did penetrate into the sacred silence of the grave—dragging forth the dead to expose it to the world, blackened with the foulest crime.

LONDON COMPARED WITH GOTHAM.

London, though the largest and wealthiest city in the world, has not, in my opinion, the architectural beauty of New York. The business houses are small, ungraceful, and generally inferior; possessing none of that imposing front so characteristic of Broadway. The private dwellings fall far short of the magnificence of Fifth Avenue. Living here, however, is much cheaper than in America, even on a gold basis. The English have ever had the reputation of being reserved, and sometimes uncouth. This is a great mistake. I have universally found them polite, and willing to afford any advice or assistance in their power to the traveler.

BONNIE SCOTLAND.

I have just completed a tour of Scotland. This country has, perhaps, more historical and fictional interest than any other. The many ruins of ancient castles, once the abode of those haughty chieftains who so long resisted the armies of England—ruling with romantic feudalism the picturesque land of Scotland. The scenery in the Highlands, with its smooth, graceful Lochs, and rugged mountains, is the most beautiful in the world. Nothing can be more delightful than sailing down Loch Katrine, where the "Fair Ellen" once paddled her bright canoe. Passing the Isle which Scott celebrates as the home of Douglass and his gentle daughter, you find yourself looking earnestly for the tangled pathway through which Ellen lead the Knight of Snowdoun, and the lone house where the exiled Baron found refuge. After two weeks spent most charmingly in the Highlands, we came to this. Your readers have often heard of an old English mansion with its noble parks. To one who has an eye for the grand and beautiful, no scene could be more impressive.

HAMPTON COURT.

Yesterday I visited Hampton Court, one of the Queen's Palaces. Cardinal Wolsey, at the summit of his marvelous power, is said to have erected this palace as a suitable residence. He afterwards presented it to his Master Henry the Eighth, on that King complaining that it was superior to the Royal Palaces. It is built after some old Roman model, and covers eight acres. The exterior is most handsomely carved with many various designs. The interior is filled with the finest statuary and paintings of the greatest masters. Here, in one of the rooms, I had the exquisite pleasure of looking at Queen Victoria's bed, which, by the way, I thought very ordinary for a queen, and is not worth describing; though, perhaps, some of your fair readers would be interested in it. The chief attraction about this place is the beautiful surroundings. First, we have flowers and fruits of all kinds from every country, which are so highly cultivated that they bloom the year round. Here and there, at different places in the garden, are graceful fountains filled with golden and silver fish. Then we see comfortable, inviting seats, where the sentimental youth can whisper undisturbed his soft tales of heart-disease; or, the old can rest their weary limbs. Added to all this loveliness, magnificent parks, shaded by grand old trees that have withstood the storms of twenty centuries, covered with refreshing blue grass, the food of hundreds of fleet-footed deer, and you have completed a home of rare and wonderful enchantment. I thought while walking through this fairy place, of the many spots in our own Southern land, which with the proper care and cultivation could be made superior to this in every respect. We are so different from the English. They plant, improve, and live with a view to posterity—revere the old customs and cry "No innovation." We, more selfish, live only for ourselves, never looking beyond a life-time, respecting not old things, always shouting "Innovation! Innovation!"

I commenced, Mr. Editor, with the intention of describing London, but find I have wandered far from my subject. However, I will try and do better next time.

SOPHIE.

STATE CORRESPONDENCE.

Madison Rising From the Ashes.

MADISON, GA., Nov. 1, 1869.

On a beautiful night last April, the Right Rev. Bishop Beckwith, by invitation, held service in the Methodist Church in this pleasant city, preached to a very large and gratified audience, and administered the rite of confirmation. Scarcely was the congregation dismissed, before the alarm of fire was sounded through the streets, and nearly the entire business portion of the town, in a few hours, was laid in ashes. The people were greatly grieved and cast down, but Augusta, Atlanta, and other places generally, offered relief to the most needed sufferers—the spirits of the people gradually revived, and as the same worthy Bishop, this morning, passes through the streets, where so lately reigned ruin and chaos, he sees fine blocks of brick stores, and the centre of this beautiful city, teeming with more than its wonted activity and bustle. This speaks well for the enterprise of the people of Madison; and I doubt not, what was deeply deplored at the time as a great calamity—and it was really such to many—will ultimately prove a general good.

MIDDLE GEORGIA TOWNS AND VILLAGES.

There is no apparent growth in Madison, and nearly all the villages in Middle Georgia, present a dull and dilapidated aspect. Once the abodes of opulence and generous and graceful hospitality, bereft of their slaves, impoverished, and compelled to live upon their farms, where they have been able to retain them; many resting quietly in "the house of silence"—all these things have worked sad changes upon the interior cities of this most desirable portion of our great State. Before the war, there were two flourishing Female Colleges in Madison; now, there is none. These institutions attracted population and trade, and rendered the society of the place refined and attractive.

OGLETHORPE COLLEGE AND ATLANTA.

Speaking of Colleges, I was pleased to see a movement to carry Oglethorpe University to your growing city, if it must be moved. It will do more for its material prosperity, to say nothing of its intellectual, moral and social benefits, than a dozen factories; though, these are all desirable in their places. As a small property holder in your city, I should not regret a liberal donation from its treasury, to get a good University to Atlanta, though taxes are now rather onerous.

But such an institution will want more than four or five acres of ground; and yet it should be convenient to the population of the city. Now, therefore is the time to select a site, as the Rev. Dr. Wilson well remarks, where its large and classic edifice will be a standing and attractive advertisement of the literary advantages of your city; and where, from the aspiring observatory, the equally aspiring students, may look abroad, and in every direction, see our State and Nation illustrated, by the teeming multitudes, which pour in through the iron thoroughfares and walk the busy streets of the great commercial and educational centre of the South.

BISHOP BECKWITH.

Bishop Beckwith preached twice on yesterday to large and attentive audiences. On the previous Thursday and Friday he preached in the Methodist and Baptist churches at Washington to delighted congregations. To-night he preaches in Greensboro'.

The weather is superb, and the health of the country good.

In haste. Yours, J. K.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30, 1869.

COLD SNAPS.

When such cold snaps as we are now having come upon us, one longs to be off to the sunny South, where roses bloom almost forever. And the reasons induce one to prefer a home where the people too are generous, warm-hearted and hospitable and where the almighty dollar is not the gauge by which merit is judged.

POSTMASTER GENERAL'S REPORT.

The papers here, as usual at this time of the year, are publishing items from the annual reports of the Secretaries of Congress. That of the Postmaster General is very interesting, relating as it does to a branch of the public service, in which all sections of the country are so directly concerned. The highly gratifying statement is made that the revenues are greatly increasing, and the deficiency for the fiscal year ending the 30th of June last, is much less than previous years. Mr. Creswell will recommend the abolishing of the franking privilege of the departments, and that an account for postage be kept in each one. Enormous quantities of free matter are daily forwarded from them to all parts of the country, thus entailing a heavy expense on the postal service. It is thought that the franking privilege of Congress will be greatly restricted next session. If so, the Postmaster General thinks, that by abolishing the letter-box system, and adopting other reforms suggested, the Department will soon yield a revenue to the Goverment, instead of being, as now, a tax upon it.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.

Internal revenue receipts for this month up to the 26th instant, amount to ten millions three hundred and eight thousand dollars. It is estimatod that they will reach twelve millions, nearly two millions more than for October, 1868.

BRIDGE ACROSS THE POTOMAC.

General Michler, Commissioner of Public Buildings and Grounds in his report, recommends that a permanent and substantial bridge be built across the Potomac, where the old and insecure Long Bridge now stands. The fact is, that almost enough money has been spent on it, to build a structure that would be a credit to the national metropolis. No public improvement now in contemplation would more advance the interests of the capital, forming as it will the connecting link of the Northern and Southern railways.

A NATIONAL PARK.

He also urges upon Congress the importance of a National Park. It is understood, that he is still in favor of the site heretofore proposed, viz: West of 14th street and Meridian Hill, and embracing the romantic valley of Rock Creek, which separates the City from Georgetown. No other site combines such advantages as this; indeed, no other has a stream of water sufficcient for the lakes, ponds, etc., for a park of the dimensions contemplated. The completion of the aqueduct is strongly urged as a great necessity.

THE CORPORATION ELEPHANT.

The Canal, or "Corporation Elephant," as it is often termed, receives due attention. It is, at present, the greatest nuisance of the city, notwithstanding the repeated efforts made to clear it out, have suitable locks, etc.

NEW RAILROAD COMMENCED.

The work of construction on the Berme Bank Railroad, to connect Georgetown with the Alexandria. Loudoun and Hampshire Railroad was commenced on the 28th inst. It will be four miles long, on the edge of the canal, and is designed to connect the Northern and Southern railroads with the aid of the National Junction Railway, over the aqueduct, at Georgetown.

GEN. BUTTERFIELD RESIGNED.

Gen. Butterfield, the Assistant Treasurer of the United States, at New York, tendered his resignation upon receiving a confidential communication, informing him that the President and Secretary of the Treasury both desired it. It is pretty certain that Butterfield, though occupying such an important and responsible position, did not keep his official robes altogether immaculate from contact with the grosser things of Wall Street. When will these men, who are patrons of loyalty, learn to be honest and true to the confidence placed in them? Considerable difficulty is experienced in naming his successor. It will ever be so when partizans alone are elevated to such positions.

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY IN CUBA.

The decree of the Cortes, establishing unrestricted liberty of religion in Cuba and Porto Rico, was promulgated there on the 25th inst. It is extremely liberal in its terms, and one clause provides that no person shall be prevented from holding office by reason of his religious belief. As there is now no obstacle, it is stated that a Protestant Church will be erected in Havana.

GEN. BELKNAP.

Gen. Belknap, of Iowa, the newly appointed Secretary of War, is here. Judging from his character and qualifications as set forth in the Republican journals, there never was a man better fitted for minister of war. It is somewhat singular that these journals did not discover and reveal to us his extraordinary merit, before his appointment.

THE FORTY THIEVES OUTDONE.

The Morning News says that the Forty Thieves are at the National Theater, and when Congress comes, we shall have ten times forty at the Capital. This is rather uncomplimentary to our visitors next winter, but the truth must be told occasionally.

THE MACON FAIR.

Your agricultural convention, in Georgia, is attracting attention here. Senator Cameron, chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture, General Capron, Commissioner of Agriculture, and several other prominent men, interested in such pursuits, propose to attend it.

A MODEL POSTMISTRESS.

Judging from the following, there are some officeholders who do not enjoy their otium cum dignitate. A recently appointed postmistress, at an office on the plains, sends on her first quarterly return to the Department, with the following foot note: "For weeks past I have slept with a six-shooter by my bedside, and a carving knife under my pillows, expecting, at break-o'-day, the Indians would come for my scalp; but all of this has not been half so harrassing, to my mind, as making out this quarterly report." With a few lessons in penmanship, and a little in the duties of her office, she would make a model frontier postmaster. Don't you think so?

Yours, etc., SCRIPTOR.

MACON, October 30, 1869.

MACON IN A WAKEFUL STATE.

Editors Constitution: Macon is up and doing. It is said that coming events cast their shadows before them. The Fair has "shadowed" this city of hills. On the streets you notice everybody up to their eyes in business. If you step into the office of the Georgia Agricultural Society, you will find the Secretary and clerks busy as bees. What will Macon do with all the people who are coming? It strikes me, the tent idea is a sensible one. Macon will do all she can, but it is the "muchness" that will trouble her.

GEORGIA TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Yesterday (Friday) the Committee ordered by the Georgia Teachers' Association to be appointed for the purpose of suggesting a plan by which to educate the masses of the people—white and colored—was in session.

The committee was appointed by Dr. Tucker, President of the Association, as follows: Prof. Gustavus J. Orr, Covington, chairman; Mr. Bernard Mallon, Savannah; Hon. D. E. Butler, Madison; Hon. David W. Lewis, Macon; Mr. Martin V. Calvin, Augusta. Mr. Butler being absent, the committee requested Dr. Bonnell, of Wesleyan Female College, to act in his stead. The request was acceded to.

Gentlemen succeeded in harmonizing their views, and agreed upon a plan of a general character. It will be more fully developed when the committee meet here, as proposed, November 16th, prox.

An adjourned meeting of the Teachers' Association for the special consideration of the report of the Committee on Common Schools, will be held November 17th. There will be a day and night session. It is hoped, by the friends of education, that the attendance will be full. A very attractive programme has been gotton up for the occasion. The morning session will be devoted to the discussion of the committee's report, with addresses by the Rev. Mr. Landrum, of Savannah; Hon. Henry Barnard, United States Commissioner of Education, and Hon. Henry W. Hilliard, of Augusta. At night, Dr. Sears, agent of the Peabody fund, will address the meeting.

COMMON SCHOOLS DEMANDED.

This will be a very important meeting. Your correspondent believes that the plan suggested by the committee mentioned in the outset, will meet the cordial endorsement and approval of the white and colored people of our State.

Everywhere the people are crying out for a common sense system of Common Schools. They have great faith in the practicality of the scheme, add that faith becomes daily stronger and stronger.

Work ahead in Atlanta, soon you will have Macon and other places in your wake.

DARBY.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A few days ago, as a very careful freedman was feeding Judge Montgomery's gin, in Schley county, he discovered a match in the cotton, but not until it was too late to prevent it going to the saws. As quick as thought, he raised the breast-piece, seized a handful of cotton together with the blazing match, and ran from the gin house. But for this presence of mind, and very prompt action on the part of the freedman, in another instant the lint-room, containing a large lot of cotton, would have been one sheet of flame.

We understand that Mr. Singletary, who had his gin house in the same county destroyed by fire recently, has but little doubt that it was fired in this way.

We have noticed accounts of burned gin houses all over the State, and do not think it wonderful, when we remember the cheapness of matches and the free use made of them by the freedmen. In order to guard against this, planters should allow no smoking or matches in the cotton field or in their gin houses.—Americus Courier.

WHAT BOYS CAN DO—A PREGNANT EXAMPLE.—A young man of an adjoining county, "not yet nineteen years old," aided by his brother, between twelve and thirteen years of age, and a pony, has this year, on rented land, cleared three bales of cotton, and one hundred and fifty bushels of corn, and "lots of potatoes," besides supporting his mother and a little sister. He also has cotton yet to pick. He is the son of a deceased Confederate soldier. He will commence the next year with the following capital:

Three bales of cotton, at 23c	$345
One hundred and fifty bushels of corn, at $150	$225
	$570

and his pony.

He contemplates buying a mule, and hiring a hand and more ground. He cultivated thirty acres this year.—Col. Sun.

A "HEAVY" NEWSPAPER MAN.—Among the arrivals at the Brown House yesterday, we noticed that of Col. T. M. Acton, agent for Georgia newspapers at the front, with the Army of Tennessee, during the late "little unpleasantness." We did not have the pleasure of seeing Col. Tom, but was told he was as "thin" as usual—not above three hundred in weight. We do not know whether he is connected with any newspaper establishment at present, but think any one needing an agent, who can carry weight, should at once secure him. In point of ability no better lives.—Macon Journal and Messenger.

THE KING OF DIAMONDS.

One Hundred Millions Represented in a Single Precious Stone.

It seems as though, after a lapse of three centuries, Sir Walter Raleigh's dreams of an El Dorado were about to be realized.

The other day we published an account of marvellous discoveries of diamonds in South Africa. They had been found for miles along the banks of the Orange and the Vaal Rivers. They were not only abundant, but they were, many of them, of great size. Some were found of the pan daloque shape and of the first water weighing upward of eighty carats; others of the octahedron, or four-pointed, that weighed upward of thirty carats; and of the smaller varieties immense numbers had been picked up on the surface of the ground. Naturally, South Africa was in a ferment. Elephants' tusks were forgotten, and every one was hunting for precious stones. The infection had even extended to this country, and Dr. Hall was organizing a colony to go diamond gathering. But now come reports from Australia of discoveries there, which far eclipse those in South Africa. Telegrams have come flying from the Australian mines to England, big enough to make the diamond merchants hold their breath with astonishment. The glittering stones have been picked up in such quantities that, says the London Times in a leading article on the subject, "the colonists are all dreaming of precious stones. At every table and in every railway carriage the talk is of diamonds and rubies, opals and emeralds, pearls and topazes, and people of all ranks are rushing to the mines. Genuine diamonds are on sale by women and children at every cottage, and there can hardly be a mistake, we should think, about the nature of the stones."

This is marvelous enough in all conscience, but this is not half the story. The rest of it smacks of the Arabian Nights' Entertainments, and Sinbad the Sailor's adventures in the great diamond valley to which he flew on the back of a mighty bird. And this latter and wonderful half we must preface with the statement, familiar doubtless to many of our readers, that the increase in value of the diamond is vastly greater in proportion than its increase in weight. A stone weighing one carat, for instance, might be worth fifty dollars; but one weighing five carats would be worth two thousand. Imagine, then, the value of one as big as a lemon, and weighing three-quarters of a pound. Such a one is said to have been found in Australia. Its discovery has been telegraphed to England. It was placed in the hands of a trustworthy man. He was surrounded by a strong cordon of military, and was marched in this way from the mines to Sydney, where the magnificent gem was deposited in the mint. The stone has not yet been thoroughly tested. Geologists are at work upon it now; but if it really proves to be what iis supposed, its value will be almost fabulous. Its weight is 900 carats. The great English diamond, that pride of the British Empire, the Koh-i-noor, weighs but 186 carats, and its computed value is ten millions in gold. The value of the stone just found, if computed, by the tables in use, would be a hundred millions in gold. But of course, this value would, in any event, be imaginary, since no purchaser could be found with a hundred millions to spare for a diamond, even if it was as big as a lemon.

CALICO PARTY WIT.—At a calico party, down town the other night, a clerk of one of our grocery stores made his entree in a two-story "beav." A young plasterer, wishing to show his wit, accosted the bee-gum wearer with "Eh, G——, out trying to hive bees, are you?" "Yes," said G., "but I don't want any dirt-dobbers." That chap was chawed.—Col. Enquirer.

☞ The Grand Army of the Republic—or that portion of it which honors Portland, Maine, with its presence—wishing to raise a little money for the purpose of "sacred and patriotic charity," engaged Senator Sumner to deliver his lecture on "Caste," for their benefit. The result is, that the Portland G. A. R.'s find themselves $150 out of pocket, and "sacred and patriotic charity" has again to go begging.

☞ Offenbach, who makes so many people laugh, is being laughed at in his turn, the German author Oettinger having made him the hero of a comic novel, entitled "Offenbach & Co," intended as a pendant to the same writer's humorous work on Rossini.

☞ Madame Rattazzi looked on in the dissecting room at the post mortem examination of the Pantin victims. "A woman who can walk down the boulevards in a green silk worked all over with yellow parrots," say her enemies, "is above all emotion and public opinion."

☞ Everything was lately in readiness for the marriage of a Cairo lady, but the groom came not. After hours of waiting, a despatch was received which read: "Have to wait till next week—my wife has overhauld me!"

Agricultural Paper!

THE SOUTHERN FARM AND HOME.

WE propose to issue on the 15th of November, and on the 15th of every month thereafter, a paper of Thirty-two pages, to be devoted exclusively to Agriculture, Horticulture, and matters relating to the Field and Fireside. While we do not disparage any of the agricultural publications which are now receiving public patronage, we do not believe that any of them exactly covers the ground which we propose to occupy. We intend to issue a First-class Paper, both as to Matter and Execution. We shall employ the best talent which the country affords in every department, and we intend to spare no pains to make the paper a reliable authority to all seeking information on everything relating to the Farm and the Household. Eminent practical agriculturists will contribute articles concerning the preparation and culture of the soil. Skilled Horticulturists and fruit growers will keep our readers posted in regard to the Garden and Orchard. Persons of acknowledged experience and skill in the raising and care of stock will devote their attention to this important subject. The domestic department of the household, the kitchen, the larder, the store room, and the fowl yard—with approved recipes in all branches of housewifery, shall be attended to carefully. We have made arrangements to illustrate the text with appropriate Wood Engravings, and while the greater portion of the paper will be devoted to the instruction and benefit of the heads of the house, the amusement of the Young People shall not be neglected. The covers and a few pages at the end of each number of the Southern Farm and Home will be reserved for advertisements, and will be a most valuable medium for businesi men to communicate with the public.

As we propose to issue a large edition of the first number, which will be published the day previous to the commencement of the State Fair, we would invite our friends and patrons to make early application for the limited space which we can set apart for advertisements.

TO THE WORKING CLASS.—We are now prepared to furnish all classes with constant employment at home, the whole of the time or for the spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Persons of either sex easily earn from 50c. to $5 per evening, and a proportional sum by devoting their whole time to the business. Boys and girls earn nearly as much as men. That all who see this notice may send their address, and test the business, we make this unparalleled offer: To such as are not well satisfied, we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing. Full particulars, a valuable sample, which will do to commence work on, and a copy of The People's Literary Companion—one of the largest and best family newspapers published—all sent free by mail. Reader, if you want permanent, profitable work, address E. C. ALLEN & CO., Augusta, Maine. oct26-d&w3m

EAST ALABAMA FAIR.—The Fair of the East Alabama Agricultural Society began at Opelika, yesterday. From present indications, it will be a magnificent success.

EUROPEAN CORRESPONDENCE.—"Sophie," an intelligent correspondent in Paris, France, gives us the first letter from Europe, which will be found interesting. We are gratified to announce that our correspondent will favor us with his letters frequently.

Burning of the Steamer Stonewall.

The destruction of the steamer Stonewall, with its priceless freight of human souls, illustrates the disregard for human life characteristic of the age. Hardened, indeed, must be the soul that can read the thrilling description of that sad catastrophe, without a shudder. The vessel was filled with hay, and the fire spread with great rapidity. There was gross and culpable negligence somewhere, in allowing, not only the vessel to be loaded with such inflammable material, and so unprotected as to catch, either from sparks from the chimney, or as alleged, from a candle used by deck hands, while playing at cards. Such criminal negligence calls for stringent legislative enactment to prevent the sacrifice of human life. Out of between 250 and 260 persons, on board, only about forty are known to have escaped. Every woman (save one) and child on board perished in the flames. The fire broke out at half past six o'clock, on the evening of the 27th, not far from Seely's Landing, 125 miles below St. Louis. Under the action of a strong wind, the fire resisted all attempts to smother it with blankets, and the passengers frenzied with fear, rushed to and fro with such irresistible force as to prevent those trying to play on the fire with the hose, from effecting anything. The scene was truly appalling. Scores of men sprang into the water, only to sink to rise no more.

The steamer was run on a gravel bar, but unfortunately at the end of the bar was a slough, in which the larger number were drowned. The steamer Belle Memphis reached the scene during the fire and picked up from the water all that are known to be saved, except sixteen saved by a gentleman in a skiff. The lady that was saved, was carried ashore by a gentleman from Paducah, Ky. Every conceivable object was thrown into the water, and grasped, by the terror-stricken passengers, and many who reached the shore died soon after from burns and exposure. Many were carried down the stream, clinging to spars.

The following are the names of passengers known to be saved:

N. M. Mosheress, L. L. Joan, M. Marax, M. Breny, J. Swain, D. Jones, of New Orleans; V. Cook, M. C. Sweeness, P. Hurren, J. N. Stewart, J. Conway, Mike Kindey and brother, Geo. Helmerouss, Louis, George and Nick Peret, B. Pere and wife, N. H Moshery, L. Swan, Jas. Schwarez, Harmon M. Phillips, of Shreveport, La.; J. Conrass, Jas. Griffin, John Pierce, Denis Moriarty, Dr. A. W. Washburne, Dr. S. B. Innis, T. H. Carrol, J. H. Lyon, second engineer.

The Stonewall was owned by Capt. Jno. Shaw and Dennis Long, the latter of Louisville, and was valued at $45,000, and insured as follows: In Pittsburgh offices—Eureka, $5 000; Boatman's, $5,000; Citizen's, $5,000; Monongahela, $5,000; Allegheny, $5,000; Merchants' and Manufacturers', $5,000.

She had about 800 tons of freight, including 270 cattle, horses and mules, which were insured.

Counterfeit Tobacco Stamps.

Washington Correspondence New York Tribune, October 26.

The new counterfeit tobacco stamp which has just appeared is regarded as of so dangerous a character, that Commissioner Delano will to-morrow forward circulars to all collectors and supervisors of internal revenue, describing the counterfeit, and directing that an examination be made of all tobacco in each district upon which the old stamp of the denomination of sixty pounds is affixed. Many extensive combinations, having their head in Virginia and North Carolina, end extending in all directions, but principally in the West, have already been broken up by the revenue officers. It is believed that an extensive combination of tobacco manufacturers, ex-revenue officers, engravers, printers, and others, has been formed to operate in tobacco, and that their agents are distributed in various localities, West and South. The arrests of persons already made, and the seizures effected, are of such a character that the facts can not be made public at present.

The points of difference between the counterfeit and the genuine stamp are so marked as to be easily detected by the glass. They are as follows:

First.—The imprint in the counterfeit is badly engraved, and a trifle larger than the genuine. The words "Continental Bank Note Co., New York," in the genuine are small, distinct, and not connected, each letter standing separate, while in the counterfeit the letters are heavier, and more crowded, larger, and closer together, and in the word "Continental" the "i" joins the "n," making the "i" and "n" look like an "m," with a period at the end of the imprint in the counterfeit, which is omitted in the genuine.

Second.—In the sky of the counterfeit over the mane of the horse, will be observed four small dots; in the genuine the sky is made of straight lines.

Third.—The ornamentations resembling small stars on each side of the vignette in the lathework of the counterfeit look imperfect and blurred, while in the genuine they appear bright.

Fourth.—Over the white-faced figure "6" on the left side of the stamp in the genuine is a small black figure, a part of the lathe-work pattern, which is wanting in the counterfeit, and the imitation lathework of the counterfeit has a muddy appearance, while in the genuine the patterns are clear and distinct.

☞ The London Athenæum says: "Lord Byron's complete works for ninepence are selling at the book-stalls like herrings in a plentiful season. Another consequence of the detestable scandal which has introduced the subject of incest to the attention of young persons is a forthcoming cheap edition of the Countess Chiccioli's 'Recollections of the Poet.' It will be a six shilling volume. The lady's recollections of her late eccentric husband, M. D. Boissy, would not be a bad book. He was a frank man, and used to introduce his wife as La Marquise de Boissy ma femme, ancienne maitresse de Byron.'"

Direct Land Tax.

The following letter of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to a member of a committee appointed by the Louisville Convention, will fully explain the Status of the Direct Land Tax:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, Sept. 16, 1869.

Sir—In reply to so much of your letter of September 16, 1869, as contains the inquiry as to the amount of direct tax assessed, and the amount of the same already paid, I have to say that the amount of the direct tax called for by the acts of August 5, 1861, and of June 7, 1862, was twenty million dollars ($20,000,000.) Of this amount the loyal States and Territories assumed their respective quotas, and paid in the same in their own way to the Government, except the State of Delaware, which State did not assume the payment of the tax, but it has nearly all been connected by the Internal Revenue officers.

The insurrectionary States were permitted by act of August 5, 1865, to pursue the same course the loyal States had pursued and assume the payment of their respective quotas of this tax, but none of them availing themselves of the opportunity, it became necessary to appoint commissioners to collect it. And the act of June 7th, 1862, provided for the collection of this tax in the insurrectionary States by levying upon the lands thereof, upon which the tax became a lien until it was paid, each tract or piece being charged separately with the tax apportioned and set against it. In several of the States a considerable amount of land became forfeited on account of the non-payment of the direct tax, and the titles became vested in the United States. Most of the lands so forfeited have never been redeemed, and are still owned by the United States.

In several of the States also land have been acquired and are still owned by the United States, having been bid in by the tax commissioner at the direct tax sales, in accordance with the provisions of the act of June 7th, 1862. The quotas of the several insurrectionary States and the amounts paid by each were as follows:

	Quota.	Rec'd of the tax. approximate
Virginia	$937,550⅔	$ 600,000
North Carolina	576,194⅔	400,000
South Carolina	364,570⅔	170,000
Georgia	584,367⅓	82,000
Florida	77,522⅔	5[illegible],000
Alabama	529,313⅓	Nothing
Mississippi	413,684⅔	60,000
Louisiana	385,886⅔	301,000
Texas	355,106⅔	158,000
Arkansas	261,866	160,000
Tennessee	699,498	00,0004
	$5,453,981⅓	$2,399,000
	2,390,000
	$2,763,981⅓

The amount here given as received of the tax, is an approximate amount, and is so given because the exact amount in each State has not been determined as yet by this office. Very respectfully,

C. DELANO,
Commissioner Internal Revenue.

Geo. A. Sykes, 380 Broadway, New York, care of Evans, Gardner & Co.

THE BROADWAY EEL PLOT.

A Texas Ranger Springing upon the Tiger—Flooring the Beast—The Ranger Loaded with Blue Checks, Pocketing over three thousand dollars, Drawing a Six-shooter, and taking French Leave.

No. 564 Broadway is a two-story building. The basement was used as a free concert saloon, the ground floor is used as a drinking saloon, and the second for an open game of faro, where a motley crowd, who fight the dangerous tiger during the day at 17 Ann street, assemble around a dingy table to resume operations for the night. It is not a snap game, as a proverbial cheat game is called; yet if a countryman with a flush purse comes along, the regulars, who pass their lives around the table, disappear until he is relieved of his funds by a few deals of stocked cards, when they re-appear and keep up the play until morning.

A few nights since there lounged into the gambling room. Capt. Foster, many years ago a Texan ranger. He is a man thirty-six years of age, but appears to be scarcely twenty-five. He was dressed in a style half Mexican and half American. He could not have appeared more verdant had he been just from an Onondaga county farm. He came here to purchase arms for a revolutionary faction of the State of Tamaulipas, Mexico, and carried $30,000 in the larger denominations of greenbacks. He walked around the table, where eight or ten gamblers were rattling their ivory checks, and in an easy manner fell into a chair at the left hand of the dealer. In a careless way he asked them if they did not play monte. The dealer, of course, said "No," when Capt. Foster showed his fat roll of currency. He selected a hundred dollar note and passed it in for $2 50 chips. He laid them down in a clumsy manner generally, dragging each stack over the table, and took his own time to place them in order. He asked a question now and then regarding the way to bet, and as luck would run he won, won until he was paid in $5, then higher up in $25 chips. In less than an hour he had $2,200 before him in $25 blue ivory chips.

The bank showed no little alarm, and by a wink the players one by one began to leave their seats. Not acting as though he noticed what was passing, Capt. Foster gave them four stacks of $25 chips, and received $2,000 in exchange. There remained only the "call turn" in the box—a king, deuce, and five-spot. He laid $200 in chips on the king, calling from that to the five-spot. It was beyond the "limit" allowed by the bank, yet as they had lost heavily, they decided to let it stand. The cards were pulled, and king out deuce showed on top. Four to one was paid, making another $1,000.

The dealer changed the "deck," seeing which Capt. Foster handed in his two full stacks of $55 chips, and was paid $1,000. The new and "stacked" deal started. The Captain had an odd four chips; one after the other was picked up by the dealer, until the four were lost, as would have been all the money he could have laid down. The dealer hesitated for the Captain to pass in more money. He hesitated also, when he was asked if he did not mean to play more. He replied by picking at his vest pocket, pulling out some stamps, and saying, "I will take a twenty-five cent chip."

The bankers saw they were sold for just $2,900. Two of them sprang from their seats as though they meant to prevent Capt. Foster from leaving the house. He had suspected that also, and carelessly threw back the lappel of his coat and "took down" one of Colt's nine-inch revolvers. He walked to the gas jet opposite the table, and while standing with his back to the wall, with revolver in hand, rolled a cigarette, and wallked out of the room, down the stairs, and thence to the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The gamblers saw that their supposed green customer knew all the ropes of their den and its machinery. They swallowed their loss as only gamblers can when they find that their game is beat. Twenty minutes after Capt. Foster had left, the same motley crowd of men were again around the table.

There are many strange, exciting episodes occurring constantly in our Broadway hells, but this was one out of the ordinary routine. The most of them arise from disputes over payment of bets, or from thieving capers who hang around the tables to pick up the chips of nervous players. In this case there was no dispute—only a man played who had luck, and knew enough to quit when the game was "put up" on him. No. 564 is known among gamblers as the Eel Pot.—New York Sun.

☞ Yesterday, on a tour of observation, I lounged into the Agitator office. The Agitator herself was in Boston with her husband, and the house-keeping of the office was rather dilapidated. The walls were bare and (alas! shall I confess it?) dirty, save where a well-fingered map of Illinois hung. There was one rickety desk, and two that were solemn and heavy, like Pa Livermore. There was a safe that might have contained the future feminine ballot, so inscrutable did it look; a wash-stand; a sofa, high and hard, made of carpet and stuffed with shingles; and a plump young lady, at a desk with two letters and four papers on it, and (what for?) a looking-glass. On the floor were four or five breadths of soiled rag carpet, and the bare space around the edges had a war-worn look. Then and there I realized that facts are stubborn things. The last edition of the paper was all sold out, it being a particularly good one.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ "Gentlemen of the jury," said an Irish barrister, "it will be for you to say whether this defendant shall be allowed to come into court with unblushing footsteps, with the cloak of hypocrisy in his mouth, and to wire-draw three bullocks out of my client's pocket."

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, November 2.—The Supreme Court heard the Grapeshot case from New Orleans. The case involves a question of the constitutionality of Lincoln's provisional courts, in subjugated portions of the country. It is contended that such courts being invalid subsequent to the action of Congress, can not give validity to their decrees.

Revenue to-day over half a million dollars; for October twelve million.

In the Cabinet to-day, Fish, Robeson and Creswell were absent.

MOBILE, November 2.—A disastrous fire occurred at Greenville, Ala., last night, by which seventeen buildings were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $500,000; the insurance only about $150,000.

The election passed off without the slightest disorder; the vote is light—total in the city 5,219; democratic majority 755. Sufficient information has been received from the county precincts to know that Magee, democrat, is elected by 1,000 majority.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—The vote is comparatively small for Boston. Claflin received 8 votes; Adams 11; Chamberlain, workingmen's candidate, 500. Claflin's majority estimated at 20,000.

RALEIGH, November 2.—The negro militia excitement is unabated. A company has been sent to the upper part of Wake county and are creating much disturbance, making threats and insulting females. A party waited on the Governor to-day on the subject, but got no satisfaction. The militia are all negroes, even the officers. A collision is considered inevitable, unless these troops are withdrawn, for the people are worried almost past endurance, and reflecting citizens condemn the whole movement as unnecessary and unwise.

RICHMOND, Nov. 2.—In the State fair, mineral, pomological and cattle departments, this fair exceeded those of the last fair, held nine years ago, and other departments are equal to it. The mineral and ore department is the most remarkable on the ground, and is crowded with specimens of marble, coal, gold, lead, mica, gipsum, iron, copper, slate and granite, etc. Ex-Governor Bigler, of Pennsylvania, is among the visitors, and Hon. Horace Capron, United States Commissioner of Agriculture, will be here to-morrow. On Thursday, the public offices, schools and banks in the city will be closed, and the citizens generally will adjourn to the fair ground. The attendance to-day was about 6,000, and the various railroad trains, to-night, arrived crowded.

FRANKFORT, Nov. 2.—Quite a heavy shock of an earthquake was felt last evening, throughout Germany, particularly in Darmstadt, Wiesbaden, Mayence and Frankfort.

CORINNE, UTAH, Nov. 2.—J. H. Beadle, editor of the Utah Reporter, was beaten to death. It is alleged that his pro-polygamy articles caused the attack.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Suez Canal is 20 feet deep, which excludes Eugenie's yacht, the Aigle. Eugenie has ordered another yacht of less draft.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—A great crowd visited Montremarle Cemetery—perfect quiet prevailed. The city is entirely tranquil.

MADRID, Nov. 2.—The Cabinet has been in part reconstructed. Mastus was appointed Foreign Secretary, Fignerola, Minister of Finance.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 2.—Arrived—Steamship Wyoming, from Philadelphia; San Salvador, from New York; ship Norden, from Rio Janeiro; schooner Katie E. Rich, from New York; S. V. W. Simmons, from New York. Cleared—Brig Atlantic, for Nassau, N. P.; ship Mont Blanc, for Liverpool; steamer Virgo, for New York.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 2.—Arrived—Steamer Manhattan, from New York; steamer J. W. Evarman, from Philadelphia. Sailed—steamer Charleston, for New York.

Physical Advantages of the Jews.

Mr. Legoyt terminates with the following conclusions an elaborate paper which he recently read at the Paris Statistical Society, on "Certain Biostatic Immunities of the Jewish Race in Europe:"

"The facts which are here collected, and which are nearly all derived from official sources, are almost unanimous in demonstrating that the Jewish race is distinguished from the other European races in a biostatic point of view, by the following phenomena: 1. Its general fecundity is less. 2. So is it, at least as a general rule, with regard to its legitimate fecundity. 3. It is especially so in relation to its natural or illegitimate fecundity. 4. In an equal number of births, there are fewer children born dead, which indicates that the Jewish woman passes through her period of gestation more favorably than the Christian women. 5. But the most remarkable privilege of the Jew is, without contradiction, their relative low mortality, and that even when they are members of the lowest classes of society. This lesser mortality is not (and we can not too much insist on this point) the natural consequences of a lesser fecundity, as, with an equal number of births, they count fewer deaths, and that by calculating on Halley's method—that is, in supposing the births equal to the deaths (taking place at the same ages)—it is found that they have a mean and probable life which is longer than that of the autocthonic races. It would not be correct to say that this difference in mortality is due to a large relative preponderance of adults, since in Prussia, which is the only country in which this portion of the population has been enumerated by age, there is found to be a greater number of children in it than in the Catholic and Evangelical population. 6. We have, moreover, seen that, as a consequence of this characteristic physical aptitude, the Jewish race becomes acclimated everywhere, and propagates itself under every latitude. 7. Finally, we have shown that the Jews are possessed of a special aptitude enabling them to struggle against imperfect media, and protecting them against contagious diseases."

After discussing the various explanations of these immunities offered by different observers, Mr. Legoyt states that he believes the greater longevity of this race may be explained by the following considerations:

"1. The Jews marry earlier than the Christians, and they derive at an earlier age the advantages which statistics show are incidental to the married state. Still, from their well known prudence and circumspection, it is not to be supposed that they enter upon this until prepared to meet its exigencies. Among them, hasty and rash marriages, which are alike hurtful to the health of parents and children, are rare.

"2. The fecundity being less, they can pay much more attention to the preservation of their children.

"3. By reason of the smaller number of illegitimate children they have, they escape the exceptional mortality which sweeps away such children.

"4. The Jew does not pursue any calling which demands very hard labor. He is neither an agriculturist, a laborer, mechanic, sailor nor miner. Before all things he is the shopkeeper, merchant, banker, artists, savant, man of letters and public functionary.

"5. The Mosaic law contains ordinances which, being purely hygienic, must exercise a favorable influence on the health—e. g., the verification of the condition of slaughtered animals, the frequency of ablution, the practice of circumcision, and the periodical separation of the wife from the husband.

"6. The strength of the family feeling among the Jews. It is only when it is absolutely impossible, and without distinction of rank, that a Jewish woman does not suckle her child. The children, too, are the objects of incessant and the most vigilant care, which indeed is retured by the respect and solicitude which these manifest for their parents, especially when aged or infirm. This is probably one cause of the rarity of suicides among the Jews.

"7. The sobriety of the Jews is incontestable.

"8. Throughout the entire Jewish community, a warm feeling of charity for the indigent and miserable prevails.

"9. The religious Jew is remarkable for his serenity of mind and his deep-sealed faith in Providence and the high destinies of his race. The constancy, the perennite of the Jewish temperament, is well reflected in his religious faith, which has remained immovable for so many ages.

"The morality of the Jews, as deduced from criminal statistics, seems to be read, and is only an indication of those regular habits of life which exercises so great an influence on the duration of life."—London Medical Times.

WOLFE'S SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS AS A MEDICINE AND BEVERAGE.—As a general beverage, a necessary corrector of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes, as Limestone, Sulphate of Copper, etc., the Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. Its purity and exemption from all grossly intoxicating properties, combined with its mildly stimulating and invigorating elements, establish it as the only alcoholic beverage in our country that can be imbibed with pleasure and safety. The nervous torpor and debility which follow the administration of other alcoholic preparations and mixtures of the day, succeeded by their intense and painful nervous reactions, are unknown as the subsequent effects of the Schiedam Schnapps, even when taken so freely; while as a Stomachic, a Tonic Appetiser, it stands pre-eminent among the established curatives of the day.

A public trial of twenty years' duration, in every section of our country, of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; its unsolicited indorsement by the medical faculty, and a sale unequaled by any other alcoholic distillation, have insured for it the reputation of purity and salubrity claimed for it by the proprietor on its original introduction to the public.

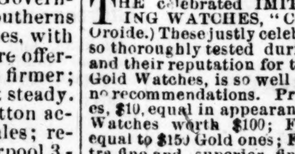

Put up in quart and pint bottles, handsomely wrapped in yellow paper.

For sale by all druggists, apothecaries and grocers in the United States.

L. H. BRADFIELD'S COLUMN.

DR. J. BRADFIELD'S

FEMALE REGULATOR,

Woman's Best Friend

THIS valuable Medicine is prepared for WOMEN exclusively, and to be used by WOMEN only. It is adapted especially to those cases where the WOMB is disordered, and will cure any irregularity in the "menses," except in such cases as require a surgical operation. As these last are very rare, the FEMALE REGULATOR is of almost universal application. In a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from COLD, trouble of mind or like cause, it acts like a charm, by RESTORING THE DISCHARGE IN EVERY INSTANCE, thus relieving the fever, headache, pain in the small of the back and "lower stomach," flushes of heat about the face, chilly sensations, burning of the eyelids and general restlessness. Taken in time, all these symptoms pass away immediately, without injury to the constitution. Frequently, however, the proper remedy is not applied in time, the disease becomes chronic, and the foundation laid for numberless evils to the constitution of the woman. The next "turn" comes around and there is no "show," or perhaps the "whites" will appear. There will be some uneasiness about the womb, but very little or none of the natural fluid escaping. The complexion becomes sallow, bowels, swollen, a sort of greenish caste about the face, constant dull aching pains in the head, weight in the lower stomach and back, with or without whites, palpitations of the heart, pallor, exhaustion, indigestion, weariness, langour, aching across the loins, loss of appetite, pain in left breast, tightness across the chest, congh and giddiness. If still allowed to go on, "green sickness" will be fully developed—the headache becomes severe, with loss of memory, diminishing sensibility, SICK STOMACH, dyspepsia no relish for food, loss of flesh, increased fluttering of the heart SWELLING OF THE FEET, legs and body and occasional spitting of blood. The slightest effort causes HURRIED BREATHING, almost SUFFOCATION. The skin is flabby and a "doughy feel." This is a sad picture, but it is the condition of thousands of women between the ages of 15 and 45, who are brought to the verge of the grave by ignorance or neglect to take the proper remedy. To all who are afflicted with any of the symptoms above mentioned, in connection with an irregularity of the "monthly sickness," we earnestly say TAKE DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR. A few ounces taken, you will at once experience its benefits, and with a little patience you will be fully restored to health.

This remedy has been extensively used for upwards of twenty years by many of the most experienced and successful Physicians of Georgia.

We repeat, that Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR is prepared for WOMEN and to be used by Women only.

A trial is all we ask.

ATLANTA, GA., December 29th, 1868.

Dr. J. BRADFIELD—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in stating that some time previous to the late war, I used, with the utmost success, on a servant girl, your FEMALE REGULATOR, prepared then at Bradfield's Drug Store, West Point, Ga. She had been suffering severely from suppressed menstruation, and this Medicine soon restored her to health. She is, to-day, living in Atlanta, sound and well

I will state, further, that I know of its being used, with equal success, on a servant girl of my brother-in law, Professor Rutherford, of Athens, Ga. This woman had, I think, been diseased for six years. She was a house servant, and seemed cured, up to the time of "freedom," I do not hesitate to indorse your preparation for the purposes for which you recommend it.

Yours truly, JNO. C. WHITNER.

STATE OF GEORGIA, TROUP COUNTY.

This is to certify that I have examined the recipe of Dr. Joseph Bradfield, of this county, and, as a medical man, pronounce it to be a combination of Medicines of great merit in the treatment of all the diseases of females for which he recommends it. WM. P. BEASLEY, M. D.

Prophitt's Liver Medicine,

Has the advantage of almost any other preparation of Medicine that acts upon the Liver. It is in the form of a Fluid Extract—ready for use at all times, day or night, and can be carried to any locality in America, winter or summer, as it will neither sour or freeze at any temperature that a human being can occupy with safety.

It is not too strong for children, or two weak for the most robust. There is no tronble about taking it, only to unstop

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR Medicine for Dyspepsia, Head ache Jaundice, Costiveness, Camp Dysentery, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhoea, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fever, Nervousness, hills, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood Melancholy or Depression of Spirits

Most of the ailments here enumerated have their origin in a diseased liver, which is the most prevalent affection in this country, and as in many cases the patient is not within the reach of a physician, it requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be active and safe. That such is the character of the SIMMONS REGULATOR there can be no doubt, which the testimony of hundreds will establish.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED

LIVER.

Pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade is mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when few of them existed, yet examination of the body after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the foregoing symptoms appear. It is a purely vegetable compound, is not injurious to the most delicate constitutions, and will keep the liver in healthy action if used properly.

Persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all bilious attacks by taking a dose occasionally to keep the liver in healthy action.

Regulator

For children complaining of colic, headache, or sick stomach a teaspoonful or more will give relief. Children, as well as adults, eat sometimes too much supper, or eat something which does not digest well, producing sour stomach, heart-burn, or restlessness; a good dose will give relief. This applies to persons of all ages.

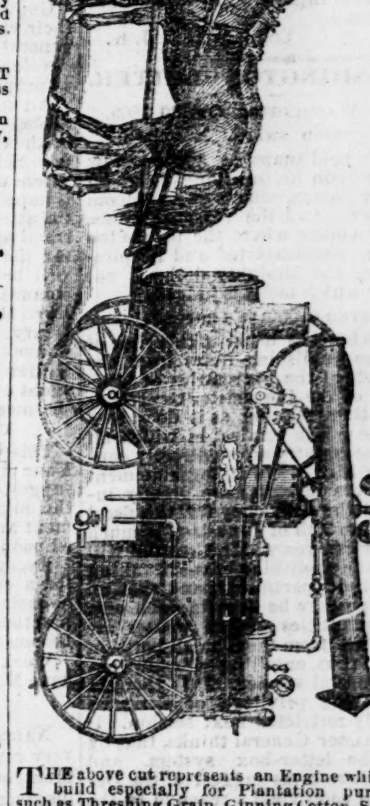

Many persons, from eating too much, are restless at night, or in day time fidgety, wool-gathering, can't understand what they read, can't keep their thoughts on any one subject so as to reason well, or become fretful. One or two tablespoonful will give relief.

Jaundice.—Take enough Regulator after eating each meal to produce one full action from the bowels every day.

Pregnant ladies will find sure relief from their headache, costiveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach, restlessness, etc., etc.

PORTABLE STEAM ENGINE!

THE above cut represents an Engine which we build especially for Plantation purposes, such as Threshing Grain, Ginning Cotton, Sawing Wood and Shingles, Pumping Water, etc.

For indoor work we make them on strong legs, without wheels. Mr. A. F. Wooley, of Kingston, Ga., purchased one of us, on wheels, during the past season. Below will be found what he says in regard to it. Persons interested in Steam Power will please address us for Circulars.

KINGSTON, GA., July 20, 1869.

MESSRS. A. N. WOOD & CO., EATON, N. Y.—Gents: I have given the Engine which I purchased of you a thorough test, and must say that it is the best piece of machinery that I ever had any thing to do with. It is just the thing I wanted and what every other farmer needs and ought to have, I never knew anything about an engine before; but I put this together and run it successfully, and could not do without it now. I intend using it for everything that a farmer needs power. I can recommend your Engines to all those who are wanting a good, reliable power; but must say that your Engines recommend themselves better than I can do Use this in any way you think best. Yours respectfully,

OUR JOB OFFICE.—With new type, improved presses, and skilled workmen, we are prepared to execute Job Work in a superior manner, at prices sure to suit, at THE CONSTITUTION Job Office. All we ask is a trial.

New Advertisements.—Imitation Gold Watches.—C. E. Collins & Co.
Bulls for Sale.—T. G. Rawlins.
Estray Notices—Fulton County.—John T. Cooper.
Legal Prize Scheme.—L. H. Lyne.

ARRIVED.—The celebrated French cooks who have been delighting the people of Nashville with their skill in cookery, have arrived in the Gate City, and taken up their quarters at Thompson's Restaurant.

TURN VEREIN.—The Atlanta Turn Verein had their semi-annual election last night, with the following result: Charles Beerman, President; A. Rosenfeld, Vice President; Charles Rosenfeld, Treasurer; C. Cohn, Secretary.

NOMINATION DAY.—The polls open at 10 o'clock, A. M., and close at 8 o'clock, P. M., to-day. Let every Democrat come up and express his preference for Mayor. Select a good, honest, true, outspoken Democrat—the best man for the position—and triumphant success awaits him.

FULTON SUPERIOR COURT.—The Common Law Docket will engage the attention of the Court for the next three weeks. However, whenever occasion demands, a criminal case will be tried. Judge Pope is making strenuous exertions to clear the dockets.

Fellow Citizens: To-day is the nomination for the Mayoralty, and in soliciting your suffrages, I can only say, if nominated and elected, I will discharge the duties of the position with whatever energy and ability I may possess.

Respectfully, E. J. ROACH.

HIS MAIDEN EFFORT.—C. C. Hammock, Esq., of the firm of Bell & Hammock, Real Estate Agents, made his maiden effort, yesterday, at the court house, in selling land at public outcry. His effort was crowned with eminent success, and sensible, though dolorous, for his sales were fine ones. Other stump orators will have to look to their laurels.

Mr. Editor: As Democrats, we protest against the proposed action (unauthorized) of a few would-be leaders, in the nomination to-day. To give you all our reasons would fill the columns of your paper. We protest against it, because it is irregular, precipitate against the wishes of the party in the city. Our advice to all is non-committal this day, but await the future action of the Democratic party of the city of Atlanta.

DEMOCRATS.

ADMITTED TO THE BAR.—William G. Irwin, Esq., who has been studying under Lochrane & Clark, for some time, was admitted to the bar yesterday, at Fulton Superior Court. In the examination before the Court, by the clear, concise and correct answers to the questions propounded, evidenced that he will rise to the front rank of the profession, should life and health permit.

CRAWFORD W. JOHNSON.—A note from our esteemed friend, Dr. John L. Hamilton, at the Kennesaw House, Marietta, conveys to us the gratifying intelligence that, yesterday evening, Crawford W. Johnson was doing well, and hopes are entertained for his recovery. Dr. G. G. Crawford amputated his leg above the knee, on Sunday, and the foot was amputated Saturday night. Mr. Johnson rested yesterday, and seemed quite cheerful.

THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—To-night, Bryor Street Theatre will be inagurated by one of the most brilliant and recherche Concerts ever given in Atlanta. The best native talent will be engaged, and the entire performance will be the best ever witnessed here. We trust that the audience will be the best ever collected in the Gate City, and that by their presence and half-dollars, they will make it the best affair ever gotten up for the benefit of the Young Men's Library Association. Go early, if you would secure a seat.

EXPOSED.—Our correspondent, Mr. Henderson, in another column, throws some light on the question propounded by us a few days ago, as to the existence of the Sidney Nurseries, Ohio. It seems that there is such an institution, but Roth and Fehrman are speculators only. In claiming to be the proprietors of these nurseries have obtained orders for $40,000 or $50,000 worth of fruit trees, to be delivered on the 20th. Better trees could be obtained at the nurseries near Atlanta or Augusta, for one-half that amount. These speculators attend the sale of re... trees, and fill their orders with trees thus obtained. When will our people learn to act more wisely?

INTERESTING CASE.—Yesterday an interesting case was tried before Judge Pope, in Fulton Superior Court. It seems that about the year 1866, a Mr. Murphy gave a trunk or trunks, said to contain wearing apparel into the keeping of a man named Irish, who was carrying on the express business. When Murphy got his trunk or trunks, he claimed that thirteen pieces of Irish poplins, valued at $25 each, were missing. Suit was accordingly entered against Irish for the recovery of the value of the thirteen pieces. Gen. Gartrell, Thomas J. W. Hill and Col. R. J. Cowart appeared for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Hammond and Wellborn for defendant. The case went to the jury yesterday evening.

SALES AT THE COURT HOUSE.—Bell & Hammock sold the Terry Mill yesterday, for $1,—cash, to two Germans.

Wallace & Fowler, sold a lot fronting 65 feet on Mangum street, and running back 143 feet, to S. L. Love, for $135; also 173 acres of land, near Buckneyville, known as the Lewis Medlock place, for $2 75 per acre, to C. W. Hunnicutt.

Fifty-five acres of land on the Campbellton road, belonging to the estate of J. L. Campbell, deceased, was sold to Mr. Defoor for $3 30 per acre; and 70 acres to J. M. Holbrook, at $3 10 per acre. A lot fronting 25 feet on Walker street, and 100 feet deep, was bought by Dr. G. G. Crawford, for $135.

The house and lot on Harris street, of John Bridwell, was bought by Col. A. W. Stone, of Savannah, for $1,000.

SOMNAMBULISM.—Broun and Smith are two bachelors. Besides being sworn friends, they are room-mates and sleep together. A few nights since, Broun surprised and awoke his unsentimental friend, by grasping his hand and kissing him in the most endearing manner, and at the same time calling him by the most endearing names. Not wishing any one to trifle with his affections, he demanded an explanation. Broun, much confused, replied:

"I thought you were a horse, and that I was another horse."

Smith answered "that if he intended to keep a nightmare in the room, he should know how to control it—as for himself he would be equipped next time the animal made its appearance."

Accordingly, next night he strapped on a huge pair of Mexican spurs and was soon dreaming. He was awakened by a shower of kisses and the most vehement declarations of undying love. A little bewildered, he responded by a vigorous kick that sent his friend ten feet from the bed. Smith, who pretended to have just awakened from the noise inquired what was the matter.

"Well," replied Broun slyly wiping the blood from his wounds, "I'm afraid I have been trying to ride a kicking nightmare!"

[Communicated.]

ATLANTA, Nov. 2.—Mr. Editor: Without disparagement to the claims of any other gentleman aspiring for the Mayoralty, I desire through the columns of your highly appreciated paper, to say a few words in behalf of Dr. E. J. Roach. Acquainted with the gentleman thoroughly, having known him since the first date of his citizenship, I feel no hesitancy in saying that he is preceded by none in public spirit, enterprise, and energy, characteristics which are highly important to a faithful discharge of public trust. In every position of life, whether discharging his duties on the field, in hospital, as city physician, or as citizen, the same humanity, energy, and ability, has characterized his course. And here, I would relate a little incident, which I have no idea the gentleman ever thought would reach the public eye; but as it explains somewhat his character, and shows human nature in a better light, the recital of course will be pardoned.

Two years ago, while acting as City Physician, the Christmas holidays approaching, and all the children revelling in bright dreams upon what the morrow would bring forth—their cheeks all aglow, their little hearts beating quick and fast—the morrow came and emptied her treasures into the laps of the favored; but who gave to the poor? And made their eyes brighter at their coming? ... in the incident: ... and while passing the salutavoluntarily applauded the act, as an oasis in the great Sahara of human life—the selfishness of the human heart.

I am satisfied, if nominated and honored with an election, he would be no "class" Mayor, but would discharge every duty with fidelity, and with an intelligence commensurate with the progressive spirit of the day. In every thing he would look to the interests of the mechanics, merchants, and business men generally, doing every thing in his power to promote the interests and prosperity of the city. Let us then nominate and elect him.

BONES, BROWN & CO.—In another column will be found the advertisement of the above firm. Long established in Augusta, they have for many years maintained the reputation as first-class hardware merchants. As business men of unbending integrity and high commercial standing, they are known throughout this and adjoining States. They have established a branch house in Rome, and are interested in the Rome Iron Manufacturing Company. Being large dealers in, and importers of, Hardware, Iron, Steel, etc., they offer fine inducements to the public to patronize them, either in Augusta or Rome.

OFFICE OF NATIONAL WATCH CO.,
159 and 161 Lake Street,
CHICAGO, Oct. 12, 1869.

Messrs. Lawshe & Haynes, Atlanta, Ga: Your letter of Oct. 6th, to Mr. P. S. Bartlett, General Traveling Agent of this Company, wherein you mention that certain statements have been made in your city, detrimental to the character of the Elgin Watches, for Finish and Durability, has been referred to me, and I desire to note briefly, in reply, as follows:

1st. As regards the finish of our movements. Upon this point, your own opinion, with the published testimonials of the most practical and experienced watch makers in the country, and the medals and diplomas that have been awarded to them for "perfect construction and fine finish," at eight different State Fairs, within the past two years, should be conclusive to your customers.

2d. As regards durability. The only possible criticism upon this point is, "that the Watches have been but a short time in market, and, although without doubt, they could not have gained the reputation they have without being more than ordinarily correct time-keepers, and of handsome appearance, it can not be known whether they will last." In reply to this, I have to say: First, that the Watches sold by us two and a half years ago, are in as good condition to-day, where they have had proper usage, as upon the day of their purchase. Second, that the use of machinery in the construction of our movements—and that of a superior kind—enables us to use a harder metal for pinions and wheels, than can be found in other watches not constructed in a similar manner, and secures less friction in the watch train, by the greater exactness and uniformity of machine over hand labor, and we know, and every mechanic knows, that watches made upon our American principle, are superior to and will out-last twice over all others.

3d. To settle the point definitely, you are authorized to say to your customers, that if any watch bearing our trade mark shall, with proper usage, within ten years from date of purchase, wear out so as to become useless to the owner, we will give a new movement, of the same grade, therefor.

Hoping this will meet all objections, and enable you to add to the large sales you have already made of Elgin Watches, I am yours, truly, T. M. AVERY,

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

[The following gem is from the pen of a much esteemed legal gentleman, in Augusta.]

TO MY BIRDIE.

From the Constitutionalist.]

Two little golden wings
Folded forever,
Two little birdie eyes
To open never;
A dear little drooping head
So sad to see,
Ah! never again will his voice
Bring joy to me.
All hushed are his angel notes,
No more will they cheer;
His chirpings and greetings to me
No more will I hear.
He has vanished quickly away,
Like my dream of joy,
And left me alone, in this weary life,
With the cares that annoy.
Would that his little voice
Could cheer me now,
Casting the dreary shadows
Away from my brow.
Sometimes I fain would fly
Afar from care,
And be at rest, like him,
In peace forever.
How sad looks the empty cage,
Deserted and lone.
And a little voice from within,
Says "Birdie's flown."
Such is a type of life,
The beatiful fades away,
And what is left of our youthful hopes
Is the empty cage alway.

FRESH TESTIMONIALS!

DARBY'S PROPHYLACTIC FLUID!

THE ASTONISHING

Family Medicine!!!

Saved from Death---Read!

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 28, 1869.

MESSRS. J. DARBY & CO., 161 William street, New York—Gents: Yours, of the 23d, is before me and has attention. It gives me pleasure to say, that my belief is, that your "Fluid," under the supervision of a kind Providence, saved the life of my youngest child, some six years ago. The child being wasted to a skeleton, by the effects of teething, and an affection of the bowels therewith. I had never seen any one reduced so low to recover.

"Physic" had been tried in vain, until the Physicians stated it was useless. A friend recommended your "Fluid," or ozone, which he stated was one of the component parts of it. I did so, and the effect was like magic, plainly discernable in one hour, in its good effects, producing quiet and sleep almost at once, where irritation and sleepless restlessness had previously possessed the child to nearly entire exhaustion.

I at first administeredit in a small way, 2 and 3 drops in a spoonful of water, and increased it to 6 and 10 drops. It completely checked the bowels, and had the happiest effect, the child rapidly recovering.

I have tried your "Fluid," on animals, with the same effect; both horses and cows, mingling more or less in water, and letting them drink.

I have no hesitation in saying, I believe it a specific for Chronic Diarrhœa, or any violent affection of the bowels.

I would not be without it in my family, under any consideration.

Yours, truly, WILLIAM FOWLER.

Mr. Fowler is a member of the celebrated Banking House of Fowler & Somerville, Montgomery, Alabama.

AND AGAIN!

Read the following letter from Mr. Frank Saunders, a well-known citizen, and brother-in-law of the beloved Bishop Paine, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South:

139 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, July 29, 1869.

MESSRS. J. DARBY & CO., 161 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK—Gents: About the 10th of June last, one of my children was taken with Scarlet Fever, in its most malignant form, and as soon as I could I procured your valuable disinfectant, "Darby's Prophylactic Fluid." Although it was several days after the appearance of the disease before I began using the Fluid, still, by a free use of it, the disease was not only confined to the one case, but the malignity of that case somewhat mitigated.

During the use of the Fluid, as a disinfectant, in my family it was also, tried in a case of headache, and one of toothache, the results in each case being instantaneous relief. It was afterwards tried in a case of Erysipelas, with almost equal success.

It is due to the merits of this compound, also, to state, that the case of Erysipelas in question, being located in the feet, the Fluid, in its application, was brought in frequent contact with a troublesome corn, on one of the feet, to the utter discomfiture of said corn; for, upon subsequent examination, it had disappeared, and though it was sought for diligently, it could not be found.

I hand you this, hoping it may be the means of inducing others of earth's poor sufferers, to test for themselves, as I did, the great merits of this great remedy.

Very respectfully, yours,
FRANK SAUNDERS.

Never was a medicine so universally esteemed and extolled. It never fails. It may be depended on.

"THE UTLEY COTTON PRESS."

A new invention of power whereby all friction is overcome. The simplicity, economy and durability of this Press astonishes all who see it, and the more so, that a power so simple should so long have been unappropriated. The strain is wholly upon two (2) Iron Bars 1¼ inches square, operating on these bars as if two men were pulling at each end in contrary direction, which will sustain a strain of 190,000 pounds each. With this Press two men can do all the packing or pressing of a 500 pound bale inside of eight minutes, and if need be, one man can operate, only requiring more time. This Press will not occupy more space than a Piano, and can be placed under the Gin and receive the Cotton direct from the Gin, thus doing away with Lint Rooms, and can be readily taken down and transported as it is simple and light. We can supply these Presses cheaper than any yet offered. Will send circulars to any desiring, and would advise all wanting Presses to withhold buying until they examine this. We will, at an early day, have one on exhibition in Atlanta, when it can be seen.

Press complete $175; Irons complete $125.

These presses are now being manufactured in Atlanta, Columbus, Augusta and Macon, and all important points throughout the State, where its workings can be seen. All are assured that as between this Press and any other, there is no argument as to its merits over all others. With the Irons any ordinary workman can put up the Press. ☞ County Rights, Presses, or Irons for sale by

R. P. GLENN, Agent,
At Glenn, Wright & Carr's Warehouse, Atlanta, Ga.

R. P. GLENN, ESQ.—Dear Sir: I am so much pleased with the style, make and operation of the Utley Cotton Press, that I have concluded to order one of them from you for my plantation on the Mississippi River.

I do this, notwithstanding I have on my place a large and superior 10 inch Iron Screw Press, which cost upwards of $300 before the war. Believing that the saving of time and space, to say nothing of its superior baling qualities, and by reason of its great power, will more than repay its cost over the one now in use. I do not hesitate to recommend this Press to all who may require one.

Very Respectfully,
A. J. HOLMES.
Atlanta, Ga.

R. P. GLENN, ESQ—Dear Sir: Having witnessed the operation of the "Utley Cotton Press," the great power exerted at the cost of so little labor which is performed by hand, and the small amount of room it occupies. I feel satisfied that it is as good, if not the best arrangement for baling cotton that has come under my observation, and do do not hesitate in recommending it to those needing a Press.

Very respectfully,
C. H. STRONG, of McDaniel & Strong, Warehouse and Cotton Factors, Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, GA., August 31, 1869.

R. P. GLENN, ESQ: We have examined very carefully the "Utley" Cotton and Hay Press, as manufactured by you, and are perfectly satisfied it is greatly superior to any other Press now in use. It is simple in its construction, can be readily taken down and moved to where your Cotton or Hay may be, and as readily put up again. There is nothing about it that can get out of order, that a farmer can not himself repair. We have seen it tested and know that one strong man can press a bale much smaller than four mules can on any other Press we ever saw. One advantage is, it occupies so little space that it can be placed close to the lint room, or even in it, and save extra haulling of cotton.

Very respectfully,
H. MARSHALL, Fulton County Agricultural Society.
MARK W. JOHNSON, Guano Merchant.

We, the undersigned, having witnessed the operations of the Utley Cotton Press, at the Warehouse of Glenn, Wright & Carr, must say that it is the most simple and powerful we have witnessed. With these qualities are combined economy in space and labor. Mr. R. P. Glenn, the Agent, exemplified fully that one man exerts more force in this Press, than can be done by four mules on any other. We have no hesitancy in recommending this Press to the farmers of Georgia, in so giving it as our opinion that the Utley Press supplies a desideratum long needed.

MR. R. P. GLENN: Jordan arrived, with the Utley Cotton Press, by last evening's train, and put it up to-day. A great many went to see it, and looked at its performances with astonishment. They try to criticise it, but can't pick a flaw in it. They see its great power—y t nothing is strained. Its great simplicity astonishes. All who have bought Screws regret it, and I think many will throw them away and buy the Utley Press. I will at once close contracts for wood works. So send on Irons early as possible.

Respectfully
R. B. GUNBY.

ROME, GA., September 8, 1869.

MR. R. P. GLENN: Yours of the 5th received. I am more and more pleased with the Utley Press. As I wrote you, my first bale of rags weighed 900 lbs. The next days (Friday and Saturday,) with two men, I packed 16 bales weighing 700 lbs. Now, I would not, for any consideration, exchange this Press for any other—indeed, I could not get along without it. All who see it are delighted with it. I am now packing my lint cotton with it.

J. J. COHEN.

GRIFFIN, GA., September 15, 1869.

MR. R. P. GLENN: Mr. Rus P. Johnson delivered us the Utley Press yesterday, when we at once put it up in our warehouse, and packed one bale weighing 478 lbs. This morning we packed another bale weighing 545 lbs. each, with only two men—one good man could have done it by himself. Many planters were to see it; all were delighted with it; and two of our largest (Mr. Manly and Mr. Prichard) say they will set—one an Alexander Press, and other a most improved Screw for $50, being one-third of their cost—and buy the Utley Press. This, sir, is the Press for the planter—it is so convenient, powerful and simple, and is so easily taken down and put up.

We cheerfully subscribe to the above.

CORN!
PROLIFIC CORN!

I have a species of Corn which I obtained from a man in Virginia some two years ago. This man and his Corn have been denounced as humbugs. I am not able to say whether the seed I obtained is the "Egyptain Corn" or not, but I do know from having grown it twice, that it is by far the most valuable species of Corn ever planted in this country. I am well satisfied that two crops of this Corn can be produced in the same year in this climate, and I know that on the same land, with the same seasons and culture, it will yield three times as much as any other kind of corn of which I have any knowledge. I have planted it for two years, and have realized large crops, literally without rain. In this exceedingly dry year, if all the farmers of Bartow County had planted this corn, we would have been worth a million of dollars more than we are, and the people would have rejoiced in abundance of bread. I have some of this Corn for sale, and will dispose of it to those who wish to purchase at $6 a peck, delivered to the Railroad Agent at Kingston, Ga.

This Corn can be grown and gathered in this climate by the 15th of August, which gives far more ample time to prepare for and sow wheat, or other small grain on the same land. All orders to receive attention must be accompanied with the money, prepaid. I do not wish to sell less than one peck to any one order. Address me at Kingston, Ga.

J. C. ROPER,
Kingston, Ga.
Sept. 28, 1869.

We the undersigned citizens of Bartow county, do certify, that we visited the plantation of J. C. Roper about the 1st of August, 1869, and examined his field planted in the kind of Corn mentioned and described in his foregoing statement, and said field looked fresh and luxuriant, whilst the fields around and adjacent, seemed literally burned up with the drought. We are satisfied that Capt. Roper's statement about the Corn is true, and the undersigned, Lewis Tumlin, has already secured from him, seed to plant a large part of his crop the coming year. We counted twenty-three ears of corn produced from three grains this dry year. In our judgment, it is by far the most valuable Corn ever introduced into this country.

L. TUMLIN,
Cartersville, Ga.
MARK A. HARDIN,
Kingston, Ga.
Sept. 28, 1869.

Capt. J. C. Roper, of Kingston, Ga., gave me a few ears of Corn, which I planted on a piece of gray upland. The land was very well prepared, and pretty well matured, and the Corn planted the 7th day of April, 1869. I know, that from the time the Corn was waist high, until it was well glazed in the grain, there never was a "season" of rain upon it, and yet was green and fresh until maturity, and did not seem to suffer from drought. The yield was extraordinary and the Corn attracted the attention of almost every passer by. I am no farmer, and had of course but a small plat of ground planted in this Corn, but if my judgment is worth anything, I can say, that if I had planted this Corn altogether, I would have made, in this dry year, three or four times as much Corn as I did.
